
1st. President of Lionism Is Taken By Death, Dallas

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 9.—L. H. Lewis, 57, of 3212 St. John's Drive, the first international president of the Lions Club, died Monday at the Medical Arts Hospital after an illness of several weeks.

Mr. Lewis had been a resident of Dallas thirty-two years, and during that time was active in civic work. In addition to being first International Lions' Club president he was also first president of the Dallas Lions' Club.
